CORRESPONDENTS' NOTICE

Many of the correspondents for the Advertiser of late are sending their letters so that we receive them on Wednesday and Thursday, which cause delay and inconvenience to our readers. We are unable to get them into the paper. Correspondents, please send your items as early as possible in the week so we can be receiving them on Monday and Tuesday, if possible, your items to appear and aid us to go to press on time.

Heard and Seen at Advertiser Office

Howard D. Smith has written an interesting article on "Fore Street in the Forties" for the Advertiser. This was his boyhood home and he relates the stories of the day and the changes along the street. He says he has another article he will write of local interest and he was assured we would like it to print. Mr. Smith said he had just had a party of callers from Florida at his home, (Friday afternoon). The party included Mr. and Mrs. Reynolds of Walton, Fla., Mr. Joe Clark of St. Paul and Mrs. Fred Morrill of Cumberland. They were out touring and were the guests of Mrs. Morrill, at Cumberland. Mr. Smith said he had met Mr. Reynolds at a great deal at the Masonic meetings while in Florida, and it seemed quite like a visit South to meet these friends here.

Philip D. West of 7 Winter St., is having billheads and envelopes printed. Mr. Wright is a carpenter and builder and is agent for the Fenestra Steel cements. George E. Lord started the paper going to Brownville. He left here Sunday and will spend the summer there with Mrs. Lord and said he wanted to know what is going on in Norway.

The Advertiser is read, despite the "wise cracker" who frequently explodes prematurely. We mentioned two auto plates boarding at this office. They were claimed by E. P. Hobson, of North Waterford and John Muller of Waterford. We read about them in the Advertiser, they said. Just like that concerning the Intelligence Column, people get results and gladly tell us about it.

Vivian W. Hills objected to our sign on the door leading to the press room. Sign reads "Private Grounds, No Trespassing" and has checked out letters, tag sellers, book agents, peddlers, etc., for many years. Vivian's criticism rested on the shop-worn condition and suggested a new card in its place. Leola Morrison, of the front office, engineered the project while the sport editor removed the battle-scarred sign. The new one sure does look better. Vivian is an optician so we assume he is looking for a job fitting glasses to printers, who failed to notice antiques on the walls.

Oliver J. Posa informed the office that he earned $15 on the Fourth, which is good pay for a holiday. This is the way it was done. He took down a chimney and rebuilt same in one day without help, thus saved the wages of a mason and tender. Oliver once handled the trowel, and hinted strongly that he had been a live one on slinging mortar before Eliot A. Phillips took him over with the clothing business.

Our basement is upset by L. M. Longley & Son who are re-vamping the steam-heating system. The week at Olaf Orchard and cared for the Clifford children while Mr. and Mrs. Earl Clifford attended the American Legion Convention at Deer Harbor.

George McGinley has returned to Concord, N. H., where he has work on a construction job. He was home some ten days for a vacation.

Chief Engineer, C. W. Bowker and several firemen subdued a blaze late Monday evening on the public dump near the Maine Manufacturing Co. property.

Mr. and Mrs. Merton Clifford and children, and Mr. and Mrs. John Wight, moved Sunday, to Cundy's Harbor and Orr's Island.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Harriman and daughter, were in Portland from Saturday until late Monday afternoon with a number of Boy Scouts who camped near Ponce's Landing, Long Island. The boys dug clams, went swimming and explored the island and went ship sailing in Portland before their return. Ralph Hemmingsway transported boys not accommodated in Mr. Harriman's car. Scouts in the party were Walter Martin, Stanley Whitney, Harry Reed, Milford Chandler, Arthur Rowe, and Franklin Rowe.

Shaw's orchestra season is now in full blast. They play at West Poland every Monday night; at Paris Hill, every Tuesday; at Sweden, every Thursday and at North Buckfield every Friday. They play at the free camp grounds, played his ad. with us, calling attention to fried clams and lunches served there at all hours. He came here from Mechanic Falls, but for years had hotel and lunch room experience at Portland, and has the shore-dinner style down pat. Mr. McAlister is assisted by his wife and daughter, who keep everything in apple pie order.

Herbert C. Rowe of Bethel, called Tuesday. He was on his way home from a holiday trip extending beyond Farmington. His son, Herbert, was with him and on his return from the Y. M. C. A. Camp at Winthrop. The party remained in town while his daughter received a music lesson from Mrs. Thomas Huston.

George Lachance, Norway, is using the Intelligence Column for the sale of automobiles, guns and many other articles. George has used this column in the past for his watch and clock repairing business and had satisfactory results. Better read that column, it's worth while.

Miss Grace L. Legrove ordered posters, Wednesday, for an auction at the Legrove premises, 10 Maple St., on Thursday, July 21, at 1 P. M. Furniture, kitchen ware and garden tools are among the articles in the sale. The sale of the place has been negotiated, but no deed has been given as yet.

GEORGE E. LORD

This is a good likeness of George E. Lord, principal of Norway High School and coach for the Norway baseball team in the Pine Tree League. He is director of the Community playground activities sponsored by the Norway Athletic Association and holds several other important positions in the association.

Mr. Lord is versed in athletics having been through the mill at Bates College and worked in the semi-pro ranks several seasons. Two years ago he directed the muscular activities of the Rideout Club and a group of business men struggling for a comeback.

Special Town and Corporation Meeting

A special town meeting for Norway is called Tuesday, July 12, at 2 P. M., at the Opera House. An important matter is to decide about the purchase of a triple combination pump, chemical and hose motor car in conjunction with the Corporation. The manner in which the money shall be raised and under whose authority it shall be expended, will be considered. Another matter is to transfer the money raised at the annual meeting for advertising Maine, to the Maine Publicity Bureau.

Norway Municipal Court

Wm. F. Jones, Judge

Lloyd J. Webster, Lewiston, pleaded not guilty to speeding. He was fined $10 and costs. Highway Officer, George Wood, was complainant.

Linwood Carroll, Norway, pleaded not guilty to operating a motor vehicle while intoxicated. Examination was waived but the respondent was found guilty of the charge and fined $100 and costs. Highway Officer, George Wood, was complainant.

Hence C. Kimball did special police duty Saturday night and Monday. Commending the safe and sane Fourth of July celebration, "In a million years I never have seen such a little excitement or so small amount of 'cutting' as this town has had before this year."

May in Norway will be commencing. Prof. Verne Whitman of Lacombe, B. C., was guest of honor at a reception luncheon given by Mrs. Pauline E. Mark, conchologist of Boston. At the luncheon, Mrs. Whitman read her play entitled "The Munch," to a few of the town's dramatic critics and writers. The criticisms and comments were favorable and plans were formulated to present the play on the professional stage this coming winter.

Miss Evelyn Gilman is having her vacation of two weeks from the law office of Donald B. Partridge and visiting in Portland this week. Miss Celestine L. Johnson is taking her place in the office.

Mr. and Mrs. Leon Kimball and Mr. and Mrs. John Cleveland went to South Arm Saturday, for a day trip, returning Monday night. They carried camp outfit and trailer; found plenty of rain, big wind and cold weather, and no fish of legal length.

Charles Huff, Freeman Currier, Fred "Shanty" Fancut, Frank Lovejoy, and Clyde Lapham were among the Norway people to visit South Arm over the week-end.

Mrs. Lydia Wing, who has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. Miss Davis, returned to West Sumner where they are spending the summer. She arrived in Maine a few weeks ago after passing the winter at Natick, Mass.

A family gathering held, Friday, at the Davis' home, included Mrs. Mrs. Wesley Hammond, Miss Cora Flood, and daughter of South Paris and Mr. Mrs. Lewis Davis and daughter of Norway.

A. H. Harriman's "Bride Window" attracted so much attention at the Maine Power Company office, was honorably mentioned in the contest conducted by the Maine Power Company. The contest was a model kitchen where everything was electrically and a June up stage apparently delighted with the splendid equipment.

Obituary

Franklin W. Faunce

After several years of illness, Franklin W. Faunce, passed away at his home on Pleasant Street, at 7:15 o'clock, on the evening of July 5.

Mr. Faunce was born at Minot, Sept. 16, 1849, the son of Benjamin F. and Sarah Atkinson Faunce. He received his education at Minot and Hebron Academy. Coming to Norway at the age of fourteen, he learned to make shoes and was employed by George Rowe. He moved to Boston, where he lived some fourteen years but in 1871 he returned to Norway, where he married Mr. Maria Shackley. After being in the grocery business for two years, he went to Boston and remained there until 1879, when he again returned to Norway and since that time he has lived at the Shackley home.

Mr. Faunce entered the shoe business with John Allen but sold his interest to become manager of the B. B. Farnsworth Shoe Co. This store was later sold to A. H. Berry Co., of Portland and Mr. Faunce became clerk. He remained in the store until 1919, leaving after working thirty-three consecutive years in the shoe business.

Mr. Faunce became affiliated with the Knights of Pythias in Boston and was a charter member of Massachusetts lodge No. 42. He was later transferred to Pennsylvania lodge No. 104, of Norway. He attended the Universalist parish and was a Republican. For twenty-five years Mr. Faunce was president of the Norway Clerks' Association.

Besides his widow, Mr. Faunce is survived by two daughters, Helen, wife of Hugh Pendexter, of Norway, and Grace, wife of Walter C. Leavitt, of Lynn, Mass.; one son, B. Franklin Faunce of Johnston, Penn., superintendent of the wheel department of the Cambria Steel works; there are also seven grandchildren and two great grand-children.

July Weddings

DOUBLE WEDDING

A double wedding ceremony was performed Saturday evening, July 2, by the Rev. J. A. Harding of Oxtown, Mass. at the summer home of Mr. and Mrs. Harding, Crockett's Ridge, Norway. The contracting parties were Ralph W. Haskell of Norway and Miss Leslie G. Marr of South Paris, both of Norway. The double ring service was used. There were 40 guests.

Mr. Haskell is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. W. Haskell of Norway and is a letter carrier. His bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Irving Stanley of So. Paris.

Mr. Marr is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ora L. Marr of Freeport; the bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Ray of Norway.

Walter Elliott Anderson and Miss Lilian Westleigh of West Bethel were married in West Bethel, Saturday evening, July 2, by Rev. W. R. Patterson of Bethel.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold A. Anderson of Norway and his bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas A. Westleigh of West Bethel. They will reside in Norway, where Mr. Anderson is employed in the shoe factory.

Gregg-Maskell

The marriage of Edith Frances Maskell and Harold Orland Gregg took place Thursday evening, June 30th, at 8:30 at the Congregational church, Sanford, the ceremony being performed by the Rev. George H. Ewing.

Miss Maskell is the daughter of Mrs. Bessie (Herrick) Maskell formerly of Norway and Portland.

Mr. Gregg is the son of Mr. Lottie E. Knowles and the late John S. Gregg of Norway. They will reside at 5 Hardy Street, Springfield, Me.

RECITAL

One of the most artistic musical events for the summer season was the Bristol-Haskell concert at Norway Second Congregational Church, Wednesday evening, July 27. The artists were Harriet Morgan Bristol, piano and organ and Miss Marion Haskell, violinist of Norway; Catherine Hawkins, vocal soloist of New York; and Mrs. Fanny H. Horne, organist of Norway.

The program comprised violin, piano, and vocal solos with violin obligato and organ selections. One instrumental number was a trio, for organ, piano and violin. The recital was greatly appreciated.

CIRCUS DROPS BASEBALL

Downie Bros. Circus and the scheduled baseball game conflict at the fair grounds next Saturday. To overcome this event, the Norway-Mechanic Falls game will not start until 4 P. M. Standard Time, and after the circus performance is over.

Both teams are going strong and hanging out the top notch. The Pine Tree League standing. This will be their first clash and a merry time is predicted. Both outfits are strongly entrenched and it means a hard battle, fought out in every department. Keep in mind this change of time and join the side-line rooters.

There will be a supper at the Country Club, Paris Hill, Saturday night at 6 P. M. for the members and guests. There will be a regular communication of Oxford Lodge, No. 18, F. & A. M., Friday evening, July 8. Work in E. A. degree.

Mrs. Lizzie Rayner of East Stenham, spent the week with Dr. Calvin Walker's family in Oxford Park.

Dangers of Paraffined Beauty

Inventions have brought their own calamities, says the writer of a leading editorial in American Medicine (New York). Some are inherent in the process of manufacturing, and others are the result of careless utilization. The rush of manufacturing has added within recent years a host of diseases and forms of intoxication that in the mass have probably been as deadly as the poison gas of a decade ago. He goes on:

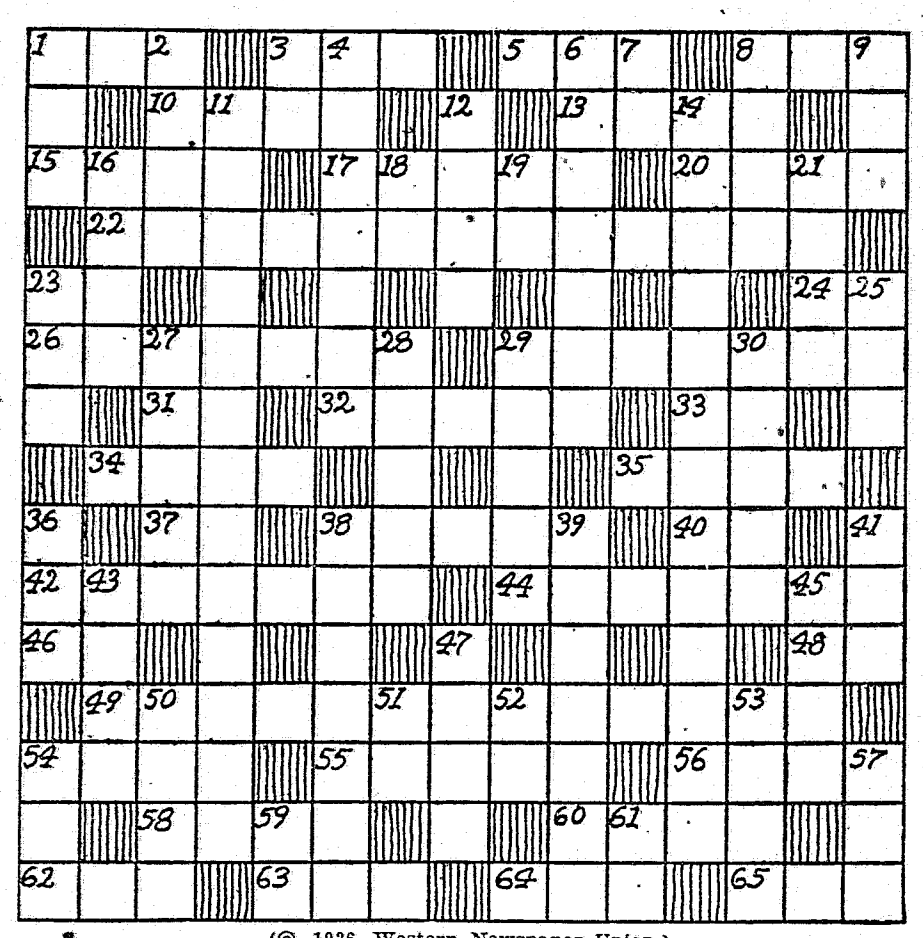

"Today new manifestations of unsuspected penalties are appearing as a result of the cult of beauty. The paraffin, the oil, the cosmetic, the hair-dresser, the artists of the beauty parlor, with their cosmetics, are all having influence upon the health of men and women. For many years plastic surgery with its alternative or restorative operative procedures has been modifying the human physiognomy in the vain hope of making it realize the Greek ideal. The convex noses have been and are being filled in. Sagging chins have been made to pull up. Bags under the eyes have been ironed out. Cheeks have been plumped in order to satisfy a desire for the appearance of youth or for the attainment of beauty that nature had failed to produce, or life experience had marred or destroyed."

"For a considerable period of years paraffin has been injected under the skin for cosmetic purposes. And for a long period of time jugs have dealt with the shifting of the features under the melting rays of the sun. Now comes a new method to make the face look better. The paraffin of beauty has brought another disease, or at least an unpleasant, undesirable and operable sequel. Clarence A. McWilliams discusses 'Paraffinosis' in The American Journal of Surgery. He describes instances of removing paraffin masses in tumor form, for various reasons, ten and twelve years after the injections had been made for cosmetic purposes. He refers to the practice during the war period of elevating the bridge of the nose by paraffin injections, and suggests that the paraffin, which is not readily absorbed, will have to be removed. The operative technique of removing it is not difficult, but nevertheless constitutes an unnecessary discomfort. The surgical removal is that paraffin should never be injected into the body tissues, as it always eventually acts as a foreign body."

"Paraffinomas are merely purposeful foreign bodies whose irritating qualities induce connective tissue production around it and through it. The embedded paraffin for a period of time causes little difficulty, but finally the skin over the paraffin breaks down and particles of paraffin are gradually extruded as the walls of the minute connective tissue compartments break down. The paraffin is designed to promote beauty now undoes its own work. The paraffinoma is the well-known 'inherent in the beauty of the pill'—paraffin, whether used to restore contours or to overcome them."

A "no place for a summer home over-look" is advertised for sale by A. J. Richards, of Farmington. See ad. in this issue.

Governor's Address

Summary of Address of Governor Ralph O. Brewster Before the Convention of the Maine Pharmaceutical Association at Old Orchard, Thursday Evening, June 30

The greatest field of investment in the history of the State is now pointed toward Maine. Upon our resources and cordiality and happiness will depend the share that they will take in the development of Maine.

Every drug store is becoming a substation for service to our friends and every citizen is enlisting as a salesman of the State of Maine.

In that spirit Maine makes its debut as the next great region of our country to know a development that will be grounded on the eternal rocks of our granite coast and know no backward step.

Even the fish and the game and the sunshine have caught the spirit of co-operation and the breezes of the ocean are mingling with the odor of the pines to impress every visitor with the joy of life in Maine.

Swivel Chair Farm Notes

Swivel chairs in milk require to be the best while heavy. Many dairymen have found the gain adding from 1 to 2 pounds per cow per month. In addition, salt is kept in the milk, and the milk can take more if they so desire.

The United States Department of Agriculture. The low mortality of children under four years may be attributed in part to the aggressive campaign for testing tuberculosis cattle and disposing of animals affected with the disease.

Good Pork—Hogs weighing between 180 and 230 pounds will ordinarily produce the best and most economical out-put for family use. Hams and shoulders from such hogs weigh 12 to 15 pounds, with loins and bacon strips about 9 or 10 pounds. If the pig has been well fattened, not only will he produce more meat, but also the flavor of the meat will be improved. If the pig is given a 24 hour fast before slaughter, with plenty of water available, the carcass will drain more thoroughly and produce a better product.

Need More Forests—Every country, foresters believe, should have one-third of its land area in forests in order to meet its timber and wood needs. Our country now has 138,000,000 acres of virgin forests, together with 250,000,000 acres of cut-over land, or a total of only 388,000,000 acres that are really valuable for timber production. This is only one-fifth of our total land area. In addition the use of wood in buildings and other construction, thousands of articles, including even medicines and clothing, are made from trees or lumber. Further- more, forests protect game and give enjoy-ment to hunters and vacationists. They also prevent the washing away of hillsides by heavy rains, and help to check floods by holding back the melting snow and water and allowing it to drain off slowly.

Crops and Meats—Without fertile soil and good crops the livestock industry could not flourish. Corn, clover, and alfalfa are of great importance in the production of our meat supply. Eighty-nine per cent of the corn crop is used in the production of livestock, whereas only 11 per cent goes for export human food and other purposes. Approximately 50 per cent of the sustenance of the live stock of this country comes from pasture, 25 per cent from corn, and the rest from other harvested feeds. Legumes in the rotation help to maintain the fertility of the soil and result in high corn yields.

Food from the North—The reindeer industry in Alaska, although a compara-tively recent commercial undertaking, promises to become an important factor in the future development of the terri-tory. The original stock of 1,350 animals im-ported to Alaska from Siberia about 25 years ago has increased to nearly 350,000, distributed in 110 herds. More than 1,000,000 pounds of reindeer meat was exported from Alaska during 1924 and 1925, and a steady increase in the output and demand is indicated. When properly produced and handled, the meat com-pares favorably with beef. It is fine grained, contains a good, palatable fat, and when fresh is exceptionally juicy and tender.

Keep Zinc from Food—Liquid foods including buttermilk, milk, elder and other fruit juices should not be allowed to stand for even a short time in a galvanized iron vessel, nor should such utensils be employed in making preserves, jellies, etc. The zinc used in galvanizing will dissolve and give the food an un-pleasant taste and may cause sudden and intense illness.

Choosiness—The outstanding reason for malnutrition among American chil-dren is bad health habits. Of course, there are some parents who do not pro-duce the right food for their children be-cause of lack of knowledge of food values or failure to understand the importance of the information at hand. In any case, lack of information can be corrected on-ly through education in what are the proper foods for children and how they can be trained to eat wholesome foods.

Balmy Waffles—An electric waffle iron should never be greased. If your waffle stick perhaps you have not put enough melted butter and other shortening into the batter. One or two extra tablespoons of melted butter shortening in the batter will often prevent sticking. Also when the waffle is brown and crisp and ready to take out of the iron, thrust a fork firmly into it and lift the waffle straight up. If you work around the edges with a knife attempt-ing to loosen it that way, the waffle will break and be almost impossible to get out whole.

SOUTH ALBANY.

Rains Helped Grass Crop—Mrs. Hattie Heald Stopping at Mrs. Ezra Le-broke at North Waterford—Peeling Pulp Wood—Fifteen-year-old Cow Has Twin Calves.

The late rains have brought a smile on the faces of farmers here for it seemed to be what was needed to help the hay crop as many fields are coming in light this season. Grass is late and as it is not nearly grown, the rain may help it along before it reaches maturity.

Ernest Brown and son, Don, are peel-ing fir and poplar for pulp wood on their home lot.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Canwell and chil-dren spent Sunday at Mechanic Falls, with his brother, Isaac Canwell.

Mrs. Hattie Heald of North Water-ford, has come to stay with Mrs. Ezra Le-broke. Mrs. Heald fell and injured her hip some years ago and has been con-fined to a wheel chair since then. Her son, Melvin Coffin, of Roseland, Mass., moved her in his big Hupmobile and she made the journey very comfortably and felt no ill effects from the ride. Mrs. Heald and Mrs. Le-broke have been close friends for many years and the arrange-ment will be very satisfactory to both parties.

Theodore Brown has been helping his uncle, Will McAllister, peel pulp wood. Mrs. Sarah Libby and son, Gardner Libby, and family, visited relatives at Bridgton, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Holt called on his aunt, Mrs. Ida Riggs at South Water-ford and another uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Woodman Charles, at Harrison, last Friday. They visited Mr. and Mrs. M. Savin to go as far as So. Waterford with them. Mr. and Mrs. Savin visited their daughter, Mrs. Merton Kimball and family while they were gone.

Elmer Henley and three sons are peel-ing pulp wood on his French lot. Mr. and Mrs. Lucien McAlister, and a party from West Bethel, visited his brother, Ingalls McAlister, over the Fourth. Mr. and Mrs. J. Spofford of Rumford Falls, visited them the same time.

Mr. and Mrs. Merritt Savin spent the Fourth at Norway with their granddaugh-ter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. George Crocker. Mrs. Annie Holt and two sons, Richard and Edward, of Norway and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Millett and children of Rumford, spent the day there also.

Merritt Savin has a cow which has twin calves. They are colored very much alike and both steers. The cow was born and raised on the place and is fifteen years old. She has had many calves but this is her first pair of twins.

Ben Russell of Lovell, was in this place, one day recently, looking after cows.

WHERE THE "DOLLAR" GOES
Give a woman a dollar to buy clothing with and what will she get? The way the average wearing apparel dollar is spent has been carefully worked out by the Phoenix Research Bureau, and is based on generally accepted cost of living budgets for the woman of average means. Dresses rather naturally are the largest item on her shopping list and take 31 cents of every dollar spent for clothing. This provides for four business or every day dresses a year, one for afternoon, and a dancing frock.

The second largest expenditure is her stocking investment. So great has be-come the demand for sheer, silk line of just the correct shade and in perfect con-dition, that 18 out of every 100 cents go to keep the American girl in the latest in stocking fashion. The rise of the silk or undoubtedly responsible for the increased importance of this part of the wardrobe.

Outer wraps, including the tailored suit, take 16 more cents, based on two seasons' wear for each garment of this sort. Shoes come next, swallowing up 11 more cents. Nine cents go for accessories which in-clude gloves, handkerchiefs, scarves, ties, hosiery and the like, and 8 cents for underwear. Oddly enough, hats, once a woman's rare extravagance, are now the smallest item of cost in her yearly clothing budget, consuming the remaining 7 cents.

IGNORANCE IS BASIS OF DISCORD

Ignorance is at the basis of most of the discord in the world. Take the matter of costs, for instance. One day I talked with a labor union leader, and he was in a rage because the employers were refusing an increase in wages.

"I would like to buy advertising space," he said, "and tell public about the profiteering these fellows are doing. I would like to ask how they have the nerve to charge $3 an hour for the time of our men, when the wages are only 93 cents an hour?"

I happen to know something about this particular business, and I know that in charging $3 an hour the em-ployers get back only what they pay out. If they get a profit they must charge more than $3.

In this business the employers must furnish supervisors, check-up men, mate-rials, expensive tools, working space, light, heat, and a hundred and one other small items.

These are all included in the $3 an hour charge. Even so brilliant a man as Don C. Seitz, former business manager of the New York World, seems to miss the point when he writes in Administration: "I recall receiving $2.64 for enough wool cut from one of my sheep to make two suits of clothes. Yet the lowest quotation I could get from a tailor at the time for a single suit was $125.00."

In the next issue of Administration I noticed a letter from W. F. Jennings, of F. S. Jennings & Co., wool dealers of Philadelphia, answering Mr. Seitz. Mr. Jennings pointed out that wool shrinks 50 per cent in scouring, while in manufacturing there is a loss of about 20 per cent, so that there would be just about enough wool for one suit.

Mr. Jennings also pointed out that the grade of wool Mr. Seitz sold would not be put in the highest price goods, but in clothes that were selling during the war around $40 to $60.

These comparisons between the cost of raw material or raw labor and the price of the finished product are always strik-ing, but usually they do not mean any-thing.

For instance, from one pound of steel, worth $5, 84,000 tiny hairpins can be made worth $30,000.

A steel man reading this, might fly into a rage, if he were as ignorant of costs as the average man on the street. The writer does not care to defend high prices or profiteering, but he does believe that a more general knowledge of the factors which constitute the cost of manufacturing and merchandising, would do more than any other one thing to lessen some of the bitterness that often exists between customer and merchant, and employer and employee.

lessen some of the bitterness that often exists between customer and merchant, and employer and employee.

Indians' Sign Language
The gesture, or sign language, is of more importance than any one Indian tongue, there being seventy-six differ-ent Indian vocal languages and but one universal sign language. The In-dians will readily teach one their spoken language, but seem combined against teaching the sign language. A man who lived with the Sioux Indians in the Dakota territory as a boy took ten years to get it, though there are only 761 words in the language.—From Adventure Magazine

Oxford Pomona

The day of the big event arrived on Tuesday, June 29, when Androsoggin Pomona were the guests of Oxford Pomona, at Pleasant Pond Grange, at West Summit and worked the fifth degree. Early in the forenoon, cars began to arrive in all directions and by noon the parking spaces were filled to the utmost. Dinner was served at 12.30 in the dining room, also in the vicinity of the Church by a committee composed of the Pomona, 2 o'clock the large gathering was all fed and were once more assembled in the upper hall.

The scenes of granges was the first thing in the afternoon meeting, as follows: Crooked River, 9; Hebron, 3; Paris, 50; Norway, 16; Oxford, 7; Bethel, 14; Bear Mt., 10; Bound Mt., 13; Franklin, 40; Pleasant Valley, 8; Mt. Grange, 25; West Paris, 20; Upton, 4; Lakeside, 4; Pleasant Pond, 30. Visitors from Androsoggin County numbered 175, while Oxford furnished 284; from Oxford Pomona, 36, and two from outside of the State. On the veranda and in various other groups were fully one hundred others as they could not get seats in the hall. The forenoon session consisted of the regular order of business, followed by a very impressive Memorial Service in charge of Mrs. Heald. As the appropriate verses were given, flowers were placed in a cross on the altar for the departed members of Oxford Pomona. State Master Abbott was called upon and responded with a few fitting remarks.

State Treasurer Addison gave a short talk which all appreciated.

The afternoon's program began with singing by all, led by an excellent orchestra of Bear River Grange members and two from Franklin, and neighboring granges.

The address of welcome was given by Mrs. Edith Merrill, Master of Pleasant Pond Grange. The response followed by L. E. McIntire of Waterford.

S. H. Hemphill responded for Androsoggin Pomona, and also told an interesting story. Song in costume, Elizabeth Charles and Norman Barrett. Selection, Orchestra.

The address of the day was by Andrew Felker, Commissioner of Agriculture of New Hampshire, he spoke of the good influence of the grange on the community, also the need of the farmers of New England co-operating to have the Muscle Shoals water power developed for cheap fertilizers. Mr. Felker held the attention of his audience during his entire talk. Selection by the orchestra. Piano solo, Miss Heald; Piano duet, Mildred Verham Woodsum and Catherine Woodsum.

The next speaker was State Master Heald, who was received by the audience "sing in a body. He kept along Grange lines, and told how Mr. Heald in Grange work, "Maine has the best air in the country," produces the best milk."

He spoke of co-operation in Grange work, and called the farmers the safety valves of the State.

Frank Pike gave a vocal selection and V. W. Canham gave a bass solo. Song by Edna, Madeline and Percy Brink. Reading, Oscar Chandler. Vocal Solo, Miss Edith Hodges.

The next joint meeting will be held at the new town hall, Poland Corners, Aug. 24th, when Oxford Pomona will be the guests of Androsoggin and will work the degree. The meeting is held on that date on account of the Lecturers' Conference, the preceding week.

Wesley Great Horseman

The most redoubtable horseman of the Eighteenth century was John Wesley. All through his active life he rode from 60 to 70 miles a day, and he was eighty years of age his record for a year was from 4,000 to 5,000 miles. Often he was in the saddle by 8 a. m., and when weather permitted, it was his custom to ride with loose rein, reading history the while.

DISTANCES PERSPECTIVE

More importance may be attributed to the view of a first magnitude star through a small opera glass than would be at first thought.

It is equivalent to being transported, if such a thing were possible, on a beam of light a journey of a few light years, each of 60,000,000,000 miles and what you would see with the naked eye at the journey's end, of the star.

Take a high power glass, say binoculars of 8 or 10 x and the star would look brighter and nearer but still a point of light, as seen with the unaided eye, at a distance of a few hundred light years.

With a reflector of 7 inches the star would begin to appear to the naked eye as a sun at a very far away station.

A 13" reflecting telescope would probably carry the visual observer many hundreds of light years nearer to the apparently growing sun, a real blazing object, for the stars are still only points of light.

Series of observations with successive and increasingly powered telescopes of 24", 30", 36", 40", 60", and 100" diameter would only amplify the brightness but would show no detail in the star, but as they could not get seats in the hall.

The forenoon session consisted of the regular order of business, followed by a very impressive Memorial Service in charge of Mrs. Heald. As the appropriate verses were given, flowers were placed in a cross on the altar for the departed members of Oxford Pomona.

Bernard and Chesley Ruggs called on their father, Henry Ruggs, fourth of July afternoon.

Spurs Corner have united and are holding Sunday morning services on Bell Hill during the summer. Rev. D. Joslin of Norway, will preach part of the time and other ministers coming in town on their vacation will preach. Mrs. Ethel Hirst was chosen organist and musical director, good music is planned for every service.

The Sunday School will convene at the close of the morning service. G. B. Turner is superintendent with a good crop of teachers. There will be transportation furnished for all children having no way of getting to church. All parents having their children ready for church and Sunday School should notify the superintendent, G. B. Turner, and they will be called for and taken to church on Sunday.

Miss Eva Bean and Miss Olga Chase went to Gorham Normal School last Monday.

George Losier, who has been attending the Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute, was at home one day last week; he went immediately to Poland Springs where he has employment for the summer.

Miss Amy Losier is attending a French school at Middlebury College, Middlebury, Vermont.

READING THE ADVERTISING

A very enterprising spirit is being shown by the merchants of today in advertising their goods. They are doing their part to inform the public as to how they can keep the costs of living down and what kind of things the people are buying now. Thereby they give the public the information that enables the home buyers to make their purchases more efficiently.

It takes experience, skill, and information to buy intelligently. Those who make it their habit to read the advertiser just as carefully as they read any part of a newspaper, are prepared to make purchases that will prove satisfactory and worth the money.

Lesson for July 10 SAMUEL'S FAREWELL

LESSON TEXT—Samuel, Chap. 12.
GOLDEN TEXT—Thy loving kindness is before mine eyes and I have walked in thy truth.

PRIMARY—TODAY—Samuel the faithful servant.
JUNIOR—OPIC—An Old Man's Advice.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—How to Make a Clean Record.
ADVANCED TOPIC—Righteousness in Public Life.

Samuel means "asked of God." God gave him in answer to his mother's prayer. She promised to give him back to God. In his early childhood his mother cared for and taught him. At an early age she handed him over to the care of Eli the high priest. While he was thus engaged God called him. He responded to this call and spent a long life in useful service to God and his nation as judge and prophet. Our lesson today is his fare well address.

1. Samuel's Challenge to the People (v. 1-13).

1. Reminder of the way the king had been given (v. 1).
He showed that they were directly responsible for the change in government. Though keenly feeling the rejection upon himself, and their ingratitude to God in their demand for a king, he had not resisted their wish.

2. Review of his own administration (v. 2, 3).

(1) Walk from childhood (v. 2). Samuel's was a remarkable life; from childhood to old age he had lived an upright and pure life. (2) Career as judge and ruler (v. 3). He boldly challenged them to show where and how he had even in the smallest matters, demeaned or oppressed anyone.

3. The vote of confidence by the people (v. 4, 5).

It was Samuel's right as he laid down the reins of government to have his record vindicated and to have his integrity established beyond a doubt, so that evil-minded man could never be able to cast reproach upon him.

II. Samuel Reviews God's Dealing from the Time of Moses (v. 6-15).

He reasoned with them concerning the good hand of the Lord upon them from the time of Moses. Though they with ingratitude turned from the Lord and demanded a king like the other nations, He had acceded to their request and set a king over them.

1. National prosperity conditioned by obedience (v. 14).

Though they had displeased God in choosing a king, if they would fear the Lord and render obedience, national prosperity would still be given. World that the nations today could see that obedience to God is the only way to prosperity! Nations should find out God's will and then bring themselves into harmony therewith. God's law must be obeyed by the rulers as well as the subjects.

2. Disobedience to God meant the nation's ruin (v. 15).

It is folly to ask God's blessing upon a nation while it is living in rebellion against Him. True statesmanship is to find out God's will concerning the nation and so direct that in all its laws and customs there may be harmony with that will.

III. Samuel's Own Vindication (v. 16-23).

This was such a critical hour in the history of the nation that Samuel sought to indelibly impress its meaning on their hearts. This he did by means of the thunder and rain out of season. Harvest time was not of season for thunder and rain, so when it came at the call of Samuel the people were frightened. They saw it as an example of God's mighty power which, if directed against them, would destroy them in an instant.

IV. Samuel's Gracious Response (v. 23-25).

1. "Fear not—serve the Lord with all your heart" (v. 23). Samuel did not minimize their sin, but assured them that if they would serve the Lord wholeheartedly He would not forsake them. The ground of God's hope was in the faithfulness of God in keeping His covenant. "For His name's sake" shows that God's honor is at stake.

"God forbid that I should sin against the Lord in ceasing to pray for you" (v. 23). Though the people had rejected Samuel, yet he had such confidence of soul that he has not allowed their ingratitude to stop his intercession for them. Such failure he regarded as sin for himself. He assured them that in spite of their sin their one concern should be to fear the Lord and serve Him wholeheartedly.

Be Ready to Act

Doors are opening or closing all the time in life, and what they will do for you depends on the way you grasp or fail to grasp the opportunities that come to you. Be watchful; be ready to act.—Matthew D. Babcock.

Influence

Influence depends less on our activities than on the qualities that lie behind our activities, as the planet attracts, not by its motion, but by its weight.—Thomas Starr King.

A CHANGE IN PAPER MONEY

The United States treasury is authorizing the reduction of the size of paper money about one-third, though this does not apply to national bank notes, and the public will not get a-y of the new money for a year.

Our present money is probably a little too large sized and is inconvenient. A smaller and narrower bill should go into circulation. It is more easily carried in the pocket and more easily to handle. The man who likes to display a powerful looking "wad" more readily to have it look any smaller. Ordinary folks will say the change in green could as well be the short green. It does the same old work.

BETHEL Church Dedicated

The new church edifice of the Bethel Christian Science Society was dedicated Sunday, June 26, at the morning service. In spite of the rain many visitors were present from surrounding towns as well as Lewiston and Auburn. At the service the clerk read the history of the society and said in part as follows: "This society was organized May, 1922. The first services were held in a home. Soon it became necessary to use a public hall. A building fund was started in 1924. A lot was purchased on Chapman St. where the building now stands. The corner stone was laid Sept. 8, 1924 at 6:30 in the morning with appropriate service. The first service was held in the new church March 22, 1925. Jan. 1927, the society was incorporated under the laws of the State. The final debt was cancelled February 1927 so that the building was free for dedication which is a rule in the Christian Science organization."

Quoting from the writings of Mary Baker Eddy, in First Church of Christian Science, the clerk read: "God grant that this little church shall prove an historic gem on the glowing records of Christianity and lay upon its altar a sacrifice and service acceptable in God's sight."

The well lighted auditorium can be increased as the need comes. The location is beautiful as from the windows are seen trees on one side with orchard trees on the other.

Sunday school rooms are to be furnished in the basement which opens directly on the pretty lawn at the front. The erection of this edifice and framing it from debt shows much fine effort on the part of the church members.

A Delightful Trip

The Eighth Grade of Bethel Grammar School with their teacher, Mrs. Lawrence Lord, the janitor of the school, H. T. Savin, and his wife, and a few friends enjoyed a trip to the state capital, Friday, June 27th.

Examinations were over and everyone passed with good rank. As a reward our teacher suggested a trip to Augusta.

Dr. and Mrs. W. B. Twaddle, Mrs. W. H. Thurston, and H. C. Rowe, offered the use of their closed cars and served as drivers so we were able to go in comfort. The party was ready to start at seven o'clock.

We arrived in Augusta, at ten o'clock and the first stop was at the State House. First we ascended to the dome, a wonderful view from the platform gave the city a very good appearance with the many pretty buildings among the large shade trees. Next we visited the Governor's office and each one sat in the Governor's chair. Then we visited the House of Representatives and sat in the Governor's chair there, also sat in the seat of the Representative Frank A. Brown of Bethel.

We saw two large cases of Battle flags. Then we visited the museum where we saw many kinds of live fish, also many kinds of live-fish, also many stuffed birds and animals in life like attitudes and surroundings. There were all sorts of birds' eggs from the tiny ones to the great ostrich egg.

We then started for Togus and had a delightful picnic dinner on the way. Dr. Twaddle bought ginger ale for all and Mr. Rowe produced a thermos jug of iced lemonade. We had large variety of good things to eat.

We then visited the "Old Soldiers' Home" and cemetery, which was very interesting. We visited the Insane Asylum on our way back.

We returned by the way of Poland Springs and stopped at the Spring House to watch them bottle water and had a drink of the spring water. We visited the "State of Maine" building where we saw some very pretty pictures in the gallery and saw many pretty butterflies and different bugs and other things in the museum.

We stopped at Norway Lake School House and enjoyed a picnic supper and then started for home so as to arrive there before dark.

We saw many beautiful sights and learned many things that we will never forget as long as we live. We all enjoyed the trip very much and had a very fine day for it. There were twenty-five in the party. The party included students of the school, Dr. and Mrs. Twaddle, Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Savin, Mrs. W. H. Thurston and son and H. C. Rowe and son. Hearty thanks were extended to the "chauffeurs" and our teacher for their generosity in making such a wonderful trip possible for the "Eighth Graders."—H. B. B. G. S. '27.

Myths in American History No. 7

By C. F. Whitman
Barbara Fritchie

Who has not read and admired that splendid and stirring poem of John G. Whittier, written about Barbara Fritchie, of which the following lines are a part:

"Forty flags with their silver stars,
Forty flags with their crimson bars,
Flapped in this morning wind,
The sun of noon looked down,
And saw not one.

Up rose old Barbara Fritchie then,
Rowed her four score years and ten,
The bravest of all in Fredericktown,
In her attic window the staff set she,
To show one heart was loyal yet.

Up the street came the Rebel tread,
Stonewall Jackson came and said,
He glanced the old flag that set his feet,
"Fret!" Out blazed the rifle blast.

It silenced the window pane and eaves
And sent the banner with seams and tacks
Quick as it fell from its broken staff
Panting Barbara seized the flag and said,
She leaned far out on the window sill
And shook it forth with a royal will.

"Shoot if you must this old gray head,
But spare your country's flag," she said.
A look of sadness, a blush of shame,
Saw the face of the leader change,
The noble nature within him stirred
To life at the woman's deed of word.

"Who touches a hair of you gray head,
Dies like a dog," March on," he said.
All day long through Frederick Street,
Sounded the tread of marching feet,
All day long that free flag tossed
Over the head of the Rebel host.

How much of the above lines is strictly true? The matter was gone over in the Century War Book, published in the eighties of the last century. The incident giving rise to the poem happened in September, 1862, when Gen. R. E. Lee's army invaded Maryland. H. K. Douglas, a Marylander, who was a staff officer of Gen. Stonewall Jackson, stated that he was with that General all the time he was passing with his troops through Frederick City and that he did not see the old lady nor any Union flag flying in any quarter of the town, nor were any orders given to fire any flag.

It appeared that the old lady sat on the porch of her house and waved the stars and stripes as the Confederate soldiers passed by. Benson J. Lossing, the historian, in his "Civil War in America", Vol. II, gives a cut of house, which he made in 1866, 4 years after the occurrence and 2 years after the old lady's death. On the same page with the house is Barbara's picture, showing her to have been a fine looking lady. The historian must have seen and talked with people who knew something about her and the event of her waving her flag as the soldiers passed by. He stated that Gen. Jackson had ordered that no Union flag be left flying while his troops passed through the city.

The poet stated that he believed he had a foundation for the poem. The people of Frederick City were, by a great majority, loyal to the Union and everywhere throughout the town the Stars and Stripes were displayed.

Now let us analyze the circumstances of what actually took place and see what we make of them. The old flags, by order, had been lowered from the places where they had been flying and put out of sight so that they would not excite the wrath and vengeance of the insurgent troops. It required therefore, act of great bravery for the old lady of three score years and 10 to shake her flag back and forth as they passed. In some wars such an occurrence would have brought upon her speedy vengeance and the destruction of her habitation. She didn't say in so many words: "Shoot if you must, this old gray head, but spare your country's flag," but the spirit was there. The poet put the color, to be sure, into words which express the purpose of her mind and heart. The Confederate officers on her street and the soldiers under them, gave no orders not to shoot that old gray head. The spirit of that feeling was in their hearts. They were not barbarians, but Americans, who respected the old lady's devotion to the old flag and they passed in silence. Perhaps many of them had not entirely let their love for it. The honor of treating Barbara Fritchie with respect, belongs to the Confederate soldiers, who passed on her street and not to Gen. Stonewall Jackson, which the poet attributed to him. This poem is one of the glories of American literature and will live as the language endures.

Fore Street in the Forties

Howard D. Smith of Norway, Gives His Recollections of the Early Days

The town line between Norway and Oxford is marked by an upright granite stone. The first house on the right was owned by William Pike, better known as "Old Bill", or by those not having much reverence for old age, as "Old Bill". The house was built by George "Plush" Pike, now living his last days on Norway town. The young Bill, last known as a member of the "Plush" family, was a member of the old-fashioned shaver, and the shingles until the scarcity of pine drove him out of the business. In old age he unharnessed his horse and let him out to pasture, and a heavy slap of the halter, which he turned him out to pasture, and the horse let fly both feet, hitting Bill in the chest, inflicting an injury from which he only lived a few days.

Corner near Joe Thompson's, now owned by Porter Swift's, was a scene of a depression where once stood a well-known house.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Martin and son, Douglas of Granby, Quebec, have been recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Norton.

Mr. and Mrs. Owen Griffith and three children of Somerville, Mass., were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Fox over the Fourth.

Clifton Stanley, aged twenty-three, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Stanley, passed away Tuesday afternoon, June 28th, after an illness of several months. He was a graduate of Porter High School and in camp for two summers and was Principal of the Mexico High School at the time he was taken ill. The services were held at the home, Friday afternoon, Rev. A. A. Callaghan, officiating. "Beautiful Isle of Somewhere" was sung by Mrs. James Chapman and Mrs. Chaucer Outing. The floral pieces were many and beautiful. The bearers were the four cousins, Malcolm, Orion and Preston Stanley and Raymond Strout, Interment in Riverside Cemetery. He leaves a wife and father and mother, a brother, Ned, and many friends and relatives to mourn their loss.

Reduce Your Meat Bill

If you are an average American family, you spend one-third of your food money for meat. When only one sixth is spent in this way says Dr. Sherman, a noted authority on food selection and economy, the family is usually better fed and more economically fed.

But when the housewife tries to decide what to feed her family instead of meat, her troubles begin. Meat has certain features which make a strong appeal. It has a rich color, a satisfactory taste, a substantial texture and because it usually contains much fat the feeling of satisfaction it gives lasts a long time. From a nutritional standpoint it is one source, but not the only one, of an important body building foodstuff.

Meat Substitutes
The foods which contain this same substance are milk, eggs, cheese, fish, nuts, dried peas and beans. But few would take milk as such for a piece of meat. The substitutes need to be combined with other materials to give color, flavor and consistency. The flavors which are often used with meat are very useful, such as sage, tomato, onion, celery salt and careful preparation will give an attractive appearance, will help win the approval of the critical members of the family.

A factor influencing the popularity is the method of cooking. Cheese and macaroni is a well known dish and this method of preparing it increases its popularity.

Baked Cheese and Macaroni
2 cups macaroni
2 cups melted cheese
2 tablespoons butter
2 tablespoons flour
1-2 cups milk
Bread crumbs

Cook the macaroni in boiling salted water. If not cooked long enough it will have a sticky feeling, cooked too much will be mushy and taste starchy. When the macaroni is tender pour cold water over it. This separates the pieces. Make a cream sauce of the flour, fat, milk and cheese. Place the macaroni in a baking dish, pour the cream sauce over it, add the crumbs. Bake in a moderate oven.

THE RICH BROWN COLOR OF MEATS
Frying or baking gives the brown color to meats. This is true of their substitutes. A variation in canned salmon.

Salmon Souffle
1 can salmon
1-4 teaspoon salt
1-4 teaspoon paprika
2 tablespoons lemon juice
One-half cup soft bread crumbs
1-2 cup milk
Yolks three eggs
Whites three eggs

Remove bones and skin from salmon, separate into flakes and add seasoning. Cook bread crumbs in milk five minutes, add salmon and eggs, beat until thick and lemon colored; then cut and fold in white of eggs, beaten until stiff and dry. Turn into buttered dish, bake in moderate oven until firm.

Color Found in Corn Dishes
The desired color is obtained from baking corn dishes.

Corn Souffle
1 tablespoon butter
1 tablespoon flour
1-2 cup milk
1-4 teaspoon salt
2 cups corn pulp
1-4 eggs
1-4 teaspoon paprika
Pepper

Make a white sauce using the fat, flour, milk and seasoning. Add corn to mixture. Cook slightly then add stiffly beaten yolks and fold in the stiffly beaten whites. Turn into greased baking dish. Bake in moderate oven until egg is set, about 30 minutes.

Escalloped Corn
1 can corn
1 pint milk
1-2 teaspoon salt
1-8 teaspoon pepper
1 tablespoon butter
2 eggs
1-4 teaspoon sugar
Buttered bread crumbs

Beat eggs slightly, add milk, sugar, salt and pepper, mix thoroughly. Add corn, pour mixture into buttered baking dish, add butter, cover top with bread crumbs. Bake 45 minutes in a moderate oven.

SEASON THE SUBSTITUTE
The seasoning and flavor of the meats appeals to the taste, so that the substitutes must meet this same requirement. In the following the seasoning helps a great deal.

Salmon Loaf
1 can salmon
1 egg
Salt and pepper
2 tablespoons melted butter
1-4 cup bread crumbs

Remove skin and bones from salmon. Put butter in salmon, bread crumbs, beaten eggs. Mix all together thoroughly. Add seasoning. Put in buttered mold. Steam one hour.

FEEL SATISFIED WITH THE MEAL
The fat found in cheese will give the individual the feeling of satisfaction that he desires. Here is a favorite cheese dish.

Mexican Rabbit
1-2 tablespoon butter
2 cups finely cut cheese
1 egg
1 cup canned corn
1-2 cup salt
1-2 cup canned tomatoes
1-2 cup bread crumbs
6 slices buttered toast

Melt butter in top of double boiler. Add cheese and stir constantly until melted. Mix beaten egg, salt and corn and stir into cheese mixture. Add chopped tomatoes and crumbs. Heat mixture, serve on buttered toast or crackers.

Cheese and Rice Croquettes
1-2 cups cooked rice
1-2 tablespoon butter
1-2 cup finely chopped cheese
Mix ingredients, shape into balls. Roll in egg and bread crumbs. Fry in deep fat.
